

Regd. No.162883/073/074

"Explore unseen World"

NORTH NEPAL

Travel & Trek Pvt. Ltd.

Barahipath, Lakeside-6, Pokhara +977 61 464885 E-mail: north.npl@gmail.com

www.northnepaltrek.com

Bread Butter Tea Hike

The Shanti Stupa Pokhara, also known as World Peace Pagoda Pokhara, is situated on top of the Ananda hill. Located at the height of 1100 meters, the Stupa is the first World Peace Pagoda of Nepal. When the weather is clear, then early sunrise can lead to magnificent views of the Annapurna mountain range. A hike to the world peace pagoda can be an immensely enjoyable experience.

Photo: Hiking through Queen Forest

Itinerary

Early Morning, we begin our trip from Hotel and reach to Damside area. We cross a hanging bridge that takes us to the bottom of the hill. Once reaching the foot of the mountain, we begin our hiking. The trail goes through a dense forest that is full of diverse vegetation. This trail is the least travelled route, so it is the most undisturbed. You will be able to get glimpses of wildlife among the lush greenery.

The hike to the World Peace Pagoda from the bottom will last for about two hours before we reach the top. Once we arrive at the top, we are greeted with the bird's-eye view of the entire valley along with the Lake. In clear weather, we can get stunning views of Annapurna, Machhapuchhre, and Dhaulagiri. The Shanti stupa Pokhara itself is quite marvellous as well. The World Peace Pagoda Pokhara, which was constructed by the Japanese, is a symbol of peace and wisdom. While coming back to Lakeside we choose either Boat or Taxi.

Photo: Phewa lake with Pokhara

WHAT'S INCLUDED

- Experience local trekking guide
- Ground transport or Boating
- Mineral water during the hike
- Entrance tickets wherever required
- Government tax, vat, service charges

WHAT'S EXCLUDED

- Breakfast, Drinks & beverages etc
- Gratitude and tips for guide (tipping is not mandatory but expected)
- Other expenses except those mentioned above.